SUBJECT :—Restrictions on enemy subjects at liberty.

SIR,

I am directed to say that it has been represented to the Government of India that the restrictions described in paragraphs 17—20 of the Provisional Instructions for the Control of Foreigners in War and expressed in statutory form in Part II of the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, might now be relaxed in cases where compliance with them is not only not essential but also involves undue inconvenience. It has been reported, for example, that a German lady missionary has had to give up her work at a school situated at some miles from a district headquarters because she cannot combine it with the daily journey to report in accordance with paragraph 5 (a) of the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939.

2. From other reports which have reached the Government of India, it would seem that while in some places Registration Officers have used the powers of delegation conferred upon them by section 10 of the Foreigners Ordinance and have arranged for reports to be made at the nearest police station or to be recorded by a police officer on a visit paid to the foreigners' residence during the course of his normal patrolling, in other places personal attendance at the headquarters office is insisted upon. I am, therefore, to request that, if the Provincial Government/you have no objection, the attention of Registration Officers and Civil authorities may be drawn to the desirability of delegating these powers under section 10 of the Ordinance as is contemplated in paragraph 18 (2) of the Provisional Instructions for the Control of Foreigners in War.

3. In addition to the foregoing action, the Government of India consider that, now that the whereabouts of all enemy foreigners at liberty are well-known, it is no longer necessary to insist upon a strict compliance with all the provisions of Part II of the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939. At the same time, they are of opinion that, in general, with the exception of the daily reports required by paragraph 5, the observance of the restrictions should not, if the order is administered with reasonable discretion, involve any undue inconvenience or difficulty. A proviso is, therefore, being added to the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, empowering Registration Officers and civil authorities to relax the provisions of that paragraph where they are satisfied that full compliance is no longer necessary. A copy of this proviso, which will be published in the next Gazette of India, is attached to this letter for information.

4. Relaxation may take the form of total exemption or of requiring reports at less frequent intervals. As a general rule, all children under 16 years of age should be exempted and it will probably be found possible to exempt the wives of refugees and, in many cases, refugees themselves. In the case of missionaries, particularly females, reports, if still considered necessary, may be made, at intervals of a week or such other period as the local officer considers suitable, consistent with his responsibilities. Arrangements might further be made in the case of missionaries for reports of movements and presence to be furnished periodically by the head of the mission. In any case, reporting should be decentralised and long journeys made unnecessary.

5. As regards paragraph 6 of the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, undue inconvenience could, it is thought, arise only in cases where frequent journeys of more than five miles are necessary in connexion with a foreigner's bona fide work. It is suggested that in such cases a travel permit might be issued expressed to be valid for any number of journeys to and from a specified place, or within a specified area, during a specified period, and that, if this suggestion is followed, no amendment of the Order will probably be necessary to obviate unnecessary inconvenience.

6. In connexion with the administration of paragraph 6 of the Order, it has been suggested that, as is now the practice in Bengal, the Registration Officer of the district to which an enemy subject wishes to travel should be consulted before a travel permit is issued. Or that, as this will involve a certain amount of correspondence, a copy of every travel permit should be sent some days before the journey is to be made, to the Registration Officer of the district of the foreigner's destination. I am to commend these suggestions to the Provincial Government/you.

7. Paragraph 7 already invests the civil authority to permit at discretion the possession of motor cars and certain other prohibited articles and this discretion should be exercised to the extent necessary to allow an enemy foreigner to pursue his normal avocation.

8. I am also to enclose for the information of the Provincial Government/your information, a copy of a further amendment to the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, which will be published in the next Gazette of India specifying the amount of property which an enemy subject may be allowed to take out of British India.

In this connection I am to request that when an enemy foreigner reports his or her intention to leave British India under rule 15 (1) of the Registration of Foreigners Rules the Registration Officer will review any permission given or refused to possess any of the articles mentioned in paragraph 7 so that only in exceptional cases will any article other than those mentioned in clauses (c) and (e) be in his or her possession at the time of departure. As a general rule it should be accepted that none of the articles except field glasses should be taken out of the country by enemy aliens.

9. In conclusion I am to say that the Foreigners Ordinance and the Orders made under it (which will in any case lapse in February next) will shortly be replaced by Orders under Part V (amended where necessary) of the Defence of India Rules. I am therefore to request the Provincial Government/you to inform the Central Government whether or not in their/your opinion any further relaxation of, or additions to, the restrictions at present prescribed in Part II of the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, are desirable.

10. Additional copies of this letter are enclosed for distribution, if the Provincial Government/you so desire, to Registration Officers and civil authorities.

Subject:- Departure of enemy foreigners

Sir,

In continuation and amplification of the Home Department telegram No.62/10/40-Political(W), dated the 29th February 1940, I am directed to say that, in consequence of an undertaking which has been given by His Majesty's Government to ensure that enemy nationals leaving British territory are not molested while on their return to Germany, it appears that it will be necessary to inform the French Admiralty through His Majesty's Government of the particulars of all German nationals who are henceforth permitted to leave British India. In the circumstances, and in view of the possibility of further precautionshaving to be taken in the future to ensure that German nationals permitted to leave British India proceed to their declared destination, it has been decided to require all German subjects leaving India to embark at Bombay (unless their destination is to the east of India and north of Australia in which case there will be no objection to departure by the port of Calcutta) and to provide every such person leaving India with a departure permit. Copies of the consequential amendment to the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, and of a press note which has been issued on the subject are enclosed for information.

the general freedom to depart so far accorded to women and children, they consider that it will be convenient if departure permits in the cases of women and of male children under 16 years of age are issued at the time of actual departure by the civil authorities appointed under the Foreigners Order of 1939 at the port of departure. The issue of a departure permit will in these cases be little more than a formality indicating that all other formalities, including search, have been completed. In the case of males, as it is not proposed for the present to permit persons between the ages of 18 and 60 years to depart, except in very special circumstances, it has been decided that permits must be obtained from the Government of India. It is, therefore, proposed that, in any case where it is decided not to object to departure, a permit in duplicate will be sent to the civil authority at the port at which the enemy subject will embark, and that the permit should not be delivered to the enemy foreigner until all other formalities are satisfactorily completed. It would save time and correspondence if these permits were sent direct by the Government of India to the civil authority at the port. I am, therefore, to enquire whether the Provincial Government have any objection to such permits being despatched direct to the Commissioner of Police.

3. As it will be necessary to inform His Majesty's Government and the authorities at Port Said and possibly elsewhere of the departure from India of German nationals, I am to request that, immediately on the departure of German nationals, a telegraphic report be made to the Government of India stating the name, sex and destination of every enemy subject who has departed, and the name of the vessel by which and the date on which he departed. This telegraphic report should be confirmed as soon as possible by the transmission to the Government of India of the duplicate copies of the departure permits actually issued.

NOTIFICATION.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Foreigners Act (II of 1940) the Central Government is pleased to direct that the following further amendment shall be made in the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, namely -

For paragraph 3 of the said Order the following paragraph shall be substituted, namely:-

Restrictions on departure from British India.

3.(1)No enemy foreigner shall depart from British India for a destination outside India except in accordance with the conditions of a permit issued -

(a) in relation to an enemy foreigner of the male sex who has attained the age of sixteen years, by the Central Government; or

(b) in relation to any other enemy foreigner, by the civil authority having jurisdiction over the port from which the enemy foreigner leaves British India.

(2) No enemy foreigner shall depart from British India for a destination outside India across the external land frontiers of India.

(3) No enemy foreigner shall depart from British India by sea except at the port of Bombay :

Provided that, if his destination lies to the north of Latitude 15° S and east of Longitude 75° E, an enemy foreigner may also embark at the port of Calcutta.

Sd/- H.J. Frampton.

Deputy Secretary to the Government of India.

PRESS NOTE.

The attention of all German nationals in India is drawn to the Home Department Order No.62/10/40-Political (W), dated the 29th February 1940. This order amends paragraph 3 of the Enemy Foreigners Order, 1939, in two respects -

(1) the obligation to obtain permission to depart, hitherto restricted to males of or over 16 years of age, will henceforth apply to all German subjects,

(2) a German subject may leave British India only by the port of Bombay unless his or her destination is to the east of British India and north of latitude 15' S in which case departure may be either from Bombay or Calcutta.

2. Permission to depart will be in writing, and, in the case of male German subjects of or over the age of sixteen years, will be granted by the Central Government only. Male children who have not attained the age of sixteen years and females will obtain their permits from the Police authorities at the port of departure.

3. Permits issued for the return of German nationals to Germany will only be valid for the direct journey by sea from Bombay to Italy via the Red Sea. Any German subject who breaks his voyage or travels either by any route other than that specified in the permit or beyond the route specified in the permit will do so at his own risk. No permit will be issued authorising departure by a vessel calling at a French port between India and the traveller's destination.

4. In cases in which the permission of the Central Government is necessary, application should be made direct to the Home Department as long as possible before the date of the proposed departure, stating the date and port of embarkation and the vessel by which, and the destination to which, the applicant wishes to travel. The permit, if granted , will be sent by the Central Government to the Police authorities at the port at which the enemy foreigner proposes to embark and will be delivered to the enemy forei ner at the time of his embarkation when all formalities connected with his departure are completed.

5. Women and males under sixteen years of age will receive permits to depart from the Police authorities at Bombay or Calcutta, as the case may be, on production of their registration certificates and after all formalities connected with embarkation are completed.

6. Attention is drawn to rule 15 of the Registration of Foreigners Rules, 1939, under which a report of his intention to depart from British India must be made by every foreigner to the local Registration Officer before the foreigner leaves his registered address. The civil authority at the port of departure may refuse to permit a foreigner to embark if he does not produce his certificate of registration duly endorsed under rule 15 by the local Registration Officer.

7. In their own interests, enemy foreigners who are permitted to depart from British India, are warned to keep their departure permits carefully until they reach their destination so that, if required, they may be produced for the satisfaction of any British or Allied authority encountered en route.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 3 of the Mysore Foreigners Act, 1940, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja are pleased to declare that all Foreigners Orders from time to time issued in British India under the Foreigners Act, 1940 (Act No.II of 1940), shall apply to Mysore mutatis mutandis.
